

Tweed Touring

Tweed Valley Eat & Treats Trail

With its rich volcanic soils, abundant rainfall and sub-tropical climate, the Tweed Valley is a veritable Garden of Eden where virtually anything will grow. You can 'taste the Tweed' on our Valley Food Trail, visiting working farms. Roadside stalls, 'locavore' markets and country cafes.

MURWILLUMBAH PROVIDORES

As the commercial hub of the Valley, Murwillumbah is home to a number of providores who use local produce to create gourmet goodies and beverages:

Ozganics – A tempting range of organic, low allergy sauces, spreads, dressings, bush honey and marinades. Buy direct from the factory at 5/5 Lundberg Drive, Murwillumbah; Ph: 02-6672 5882

Caldera Farmers Markets – Buy freshly harvested seasonal produce direct from Tweed

7am to 11am at Murwillumbah Showground, 37 Queensland Road, Murwillumbah; Ph: 0498 733 766

Other stockists of local produce and deli goods include:
Tweed Fruit Exchange – 103 Main Street, Murwillumbah; Ph: 02-6672 1155

The Modern Grocer – 1/3 Wollumbin Street, Murwillumbah; Ph: 02-6672 5007

Show n Shine Deli Café – Kyogle Road, Bray Park; Ph: 02-6672 5270

MT WARNING MUNCHIES

Near the base of Mt Warning, several growers sell produce from roadside stalls. This is also a great place to break your journey for morning tea or lunch:

Guineas Farm Stall – Stock up on freshly harvested fruits and vegies just before the Mt Warning National Park turn-off. The Guinea family have been farming in the Valley since the 1800s and you can often see their crops growing right by the side of the road.

Open: 7 days Ph: 02 6679 5409

Mavis' Kitchen @ Mt Warning – Set in a beautifully restored historic Queenslander, restaurateurs Peter & Charlie specialise in home-cooked fare prepared with ingredients grown in their biodynamic kitchen garden or sourced from nearby organic farmers. If Charlie is around, make sure you ask him for a garden tour!

Closed: Monday & Tuesday
Open: Wednesday to Sunday for lunch
Friday & Saturday for dinner
64 Mt Warning Road, Mt Warning
Ph: 02-6679-5664

Rainforest Café – A little further down Mt Warning Road, owner/chef Cheryl Leniart also sources fresh, locally grown ingredients. Rustic tables set out by the creek under the rainforest canopy add to a very special dining experience.

Open: Breakfast: Saturday & Sunday
Lunch: Thursday to Sunday
134 Mt Warning Road, Mt Warning
Ph: 02-6679 5955

UKI ORGANICS

The charming shops lining Uki's main street include several favourite cafes, such as Uki Café, The Lounge Lizard and Uki Bakery (famous for their pies!) You can also stock up the pantry or picnic basket with supplies from:

Glorious Organics – a supermarket range of organic fruits, vegetables and provisions.
Ph: 02-6679 4122

Uki Happy Herb Shop – for locally-blended teas and an extensive range of herbs, as well as chemical-free skincare. Ph: 02-6679 4103

Uki Farmers Market – held in the Uki Hall every Saturday morning from 8am to 1pm.

Uki Buttery Bazaar – third Sunday of the month.

TYALGUM GOURMET GOODIES

Once a logging village, Tyalgum is steeped in old world charm with many of the historic shops transformed into cafes, art studios, gift stores and boutiques. Local gourmet specialties include:

Soul Fire Cocoa Genesis – The Valley's very own chocolatier, Grayle Harlequin, creates a delectable range of sweet treats using certified organic, raw, Fair Trade cocoa and chocolate. Grayle also presents chocolate workshops at Flutterbies Cottage Café several times a year. Ph: 0467 242 491 for dates.

Even Up the Score Coffee – Talented barista, Archaeus Adidam, sources Fair Trade organic beans from boutique plantations all over the world to create his own unique blends at the micro coffee roastery in Flutterbucks. Coffee Cupping (like a wine tasting ... but with coffee!) can be organised for groups. Ph: 02-6679 2014 to arrange.

Friday Pizza Nights – Archaeus is also famous for his sensational wood-fired pizzas, available only at Flutterbucks Pizza Nights held on Fridays from 6pm to 9pm. Ph: 02-6679-2014

Tyalgum stockists of these and other local gourmet specialties include Flutterbies Cottage Café, The Little Shop Next Door and Tyalgum General Store.

CHILLINGHAM FARM TOUR

Chillingham Bush Tucker – Farmer Buck Buchanan grows some of the Valley's most exotic fruits including the Tweed's own native fingerlimes with a bubbly pulp like lime-flavoured caviar, which Buck supplies to some of Australia's top restaurants, including Tetsuya's in Sydney. He also grows Buddha's hands fruits, Japanese yuzu fruit, kaffir limes, local Davidson plums, fragrant lemon myrtle and more. You can also stock up on locally made gourmet goodies and Buck's own range of skincare lotions.

Open: 7 days
